NOYES'

PATENT HAND WEEDER

This new and valuable labor saving instrument is now offered to the public with the most confident assurance that, as carefully tested, it fosters nothing of the agricultural or florist's desire.

That we do not over-rate the merits will appear from the following quotation from a recent letter of Prof. Henderson, 191 Liberty Street, and florist, of Bergen, N. J.: "I think it decidedly the best thing I have ever used in the way of a weeder. My old foreman, who has for the past twelve years been at the head of my vegetable department, bought privately, and paid against all patents. He says it will save at least 50 per cent. of our labor in weeding." I think it will do even better than that, particularly in root crops, that require thinning out, such as beets, parsnips, onions, parsnips or carrots.

Ladies and all others having garden will find this Weeder to be "just the thing" to relieve the labor and help enhance the pleasure of their employment among the plants and flowers. For sale at seed and Hardware Stores.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION.

The election in New York on Tuesday last for the choice of Chief Justice and Associates of the Court of Appeals, and local judiciary and municipal officers, seems to have been characterized by an unusual apathy on the part of the Republicans, and an increased exhibition of rascality by their opponents.

It is always difficult to bring out the Republican vote in that State upon anything less than important National issues, the hopelessness of contending against the organized corruption of the city, having rendered thousands indifferent as to the result of local controversies, under the impression that there is little chance of bettering the condition of things, and not much possibility of their becoming worse. In this election, the farmers, whose vote is the main reliance as an offset to Tammany, were kept from the polls through reluctance to give half a day out of the busiest season of their year; and so little interest was apparently felt in the result, that even the suburban villages failed to bring out their electors. The city papers assert that the election was a mockery and a farce; and it is confidently declared, that fourteen out of every fifteen votes were fraudulently cast by organized bands of "repeaters," hired by the Tammany Ring at five to fifteen dollars per man. The Inspectors are declared to have been, as heretofore, the corrupt instruments of the Democratic leaders, and the Police force, under its new organization, seems to have been acting under direct political influence, if not secret instructions from their superiors, as evinced in aiding and abetting the conspirators, and the lack of all attempt to check the tide of fraudulent voting.

The frauds were perpetrated with the most audacious effrontery, and the heavy penalties prescribed by the last Legislature for violations of the election law, exerted no influence in deterring the ballot stuffers and repeating gangs, who carried on their work unceasingly throughout the day.

The Republicans are said to have elected two of the four Associate Justices, probably C. J. Folger and Chas. Anderson, though it is not yet certain that they are the successful candidates. In the city, of course, it was all one way. Wm. M. Tweed and Peter B. Sweeny have the full control, unmolested and untrammeled by any Republican boards or commissions, and with the powerful though partially concealed co-operation of a Democratic Governor.

It will be interesting to outsiders, to notice the improvements which are to be carried out under the new system of local self-government, which means Tammany, lawlessness and spoliation.

INTERNAL TAXES.

The bill to reduce internal taxes, and for other purposes, introduced by Mr. Schenck on Monday, which contains forty-six sections and comprises a detailed assessment of revenue, provides for an income tax of 3 per cent. on the excess of $1500, and among others the following special taxes:

Bankers or banks, with a capital not exceeding $50,000, are required to pay a tax of $100; when the capital is in excess of $50,000, $2 additional for every thousand dollars. Savings banks are exempted from this tax. An additional tax of 1-24 of 1 per cent. per month is imposed upon the average amount of deposits, other than public monies of the United States, and a tax of one quarter of one per centum each month on the average amount of public money in their possession, and a tax of one-twenty-fourth of one per centum on their capital, and a tax of one-twelfth per cent. per month on their circulation; provided that this section shall not apply to associations which are taxed under the act "to provide a national currency, secured by a pledge of United States bonds, and to provide for the circulation and redemption thereof." Every national banking association or other corporation engaged in banking is further required to pay a tax of 10 per centum on the amount of notes used for circulation and paid out by them. Brokers, banks, and bankers are taxed 2 cents upon each $100; and on sales of stocks, bonds, gold and notes, or other securities, and on sales made without the payment of a special tax as broker, bank, or banker, 5 cents for every $100. Foreign commercial brokers pay a special tax of $5000 when their sales do not exceed $1,000,000, and $5 for each additional $1,000. Foreign insurance agents are taxed $50 each. Claim agents pay $10 when the receipts do not exceed $1,000, and $10 for each additional $1,000. Patent-right dealers pay $10. Pawnbrokers whose capital does not exceed $50,000, pay $50, and for each additional $1,000, $2. Hotel-keepers are rated according to the yearly rental, or estimated yearly rental of the property, as follows: When the yearly rental is $500 or less, $10; $3 for each additional $1,000 rental. Places of public amusements are taxed, for first-class, $200 each; second-class, $20 each.

THE COLORED VOTE. The Trenton (Miss.) Gazette in an editorial article on this subject, avers that it does not see how any party, contending for the control of the government, can ignore the colored vote South, and adds:

The interests of both races in the South are identical, and wisdom and sound policy alike demand that we should make them our friends and thus subserve their interest, and consequently the interest of the entire South. This is a sensible view to take of this question; and the sooner our Southern friends realize its importance the better for the South and all who dwell upon its luxuriant soil—white and black.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION. A telegram from New York Tuesday evening, says, from present indications the Democrats have swept the city by 70,000 majority. Thirteen of the twenty-two wards thus far reported, give Church, Dem., for Chief Justice of the Court of Appeals, 55,949, and Selden, Rep., 11,916. The [illegible] ward, in which the colored registration was the heaviest, gives the largest majority [illegible] any, viz., 7,489, in a total of 9,512. All the Tammany candidates for the minor offices are doubtless elected. The indications are that Brooklyn has also given 10,000 to 12,000 Democratic majority, and elected the Democratic citizens' ticket by 8,000 to 10,000. One hundred and eighty-nine cities, towns and districts scattered through the State, give the total majorities of 9,893 for Church and [illegible] Selden, indicating that the State outside the city has gone heavily for the Democrats. Among the cities are the following: [illegible] 441 majority for Church; Morris[illegible] [illegible] do.; Newburg, 71 do.; Cohoes, [illegible]; [illegible] Hudson, 287 do.; Canandaigua, 15[illegible] do.; [illegible], 100 do.; Rome, 262 do.; Lockport [illegible]; Utica, 100 do.; Barre, 277 do.; [illegible], 130 do.

Total vote of the city—Church, 82,4[illegible], [illegible] 22,186. Brooklyn gives about 9000 Democratic majority on the State ticket, and elects a Democratic city ticket by between 6000 to 7000; Buffalo gives Church 1104 majority, and Troy gives him 1701. There are indications that the Democratic majority in the State will exceed 75,000 and will perhaps [illegible] 100,000. The total vote is comparatively light.

The Red River expedition has met with a sudden check in its progress owing to the refusal of the United States authorities to permit the steamer to pass through the Sault Ste. Marie Canal, with supplies for Fort William. This unexpected event will delay the expedition a long time, and in conjunction with the slowness everywhere observable in fitting out the command, will undoubtedly postpone its departure until well into summer. A correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, who accompanies the Canadian forces, gives a detailed account of the progress [illegible] made, showing most conclusively that a greater undertaking than Canada realizes, and but for this unexpected delay would have successfully accomplished [illegible] before the close of June. The cause of the detention of the Chicora is not given, further than that an order from the authorities at Washington had been received to prevent any part of the expedition from going through the canal. The commander of the vessel protested against the proceeding, returned with his vessel to the Canadian side of the river, and discharged her cargo. A small portion of the freight, intended for a [illegible] company, and a surveying party were taken through the canal in a tug, and the Fort William supplies were left piled up on the Canadian wharf, to be transported by land, about two miles and a half, to a wharf above the rapids, to their destination.

The French Ministerial Journals contradict the report that the Te Deum would be sung, and grand fetes given on the occasion of the declaration of the Plebiscitum. They state that a solemn assemblage will be convoked, at which the Emperor will receive the official announcement of the result, in presence of the great bodies of the State. The Constitutionel, a semi-official organ, demands that the laws be applied in their rigor to the case of all who attack the Constitution, and that full penalties be visited on members of the International Workingmen's Society convicted of breaking disorder. The police continue their search for, and arrest of, parties implicated in the late conspiracy. A native of Belgium, who was discovered during the election, among the voters at one of the polling places, was arrested, and has since been sent out of the country.

The colored people of Rhode Island celebrated the ratification of the 15th amendment, Wednesday afternoon. A salute of 100 guns was fired in Providence, at noon. The procession was long and of fine appearance, including a battalion of colored infantry; masonic, literary and benevolent societies, and citizens in carriages, and on foot. The weather was fine, and the demonstration quiet and successful. Public meetings and addresses were held in the evening.

Dixon telegraphs to the Boston Advertiser that as General Schenck obtained [illegible] of absence for a week, Tuesday, the Ways and Means Committee have postponed consideration of the funding bill until his return. The feeling in the House is strong in favor of a greater reduction than the Committee [illegible] reported and if it becomes certain that no reduction of the tariff will be made, a [illegible] list of the prominent members are in favor of fixing the aggregate reduction of internal taxes at $50,000,000 or $60,000,000.

A petition of the American Cable Company for Government aid [illegible] presented in both Houses of Congress [illegible] referred to the Committees on [illegible]. The Company propose to lay [illegible] to the Azores, thence a branch to [illegible] and another to London, Havre and [illegible]. There is no connection [illegible] any [illegible] lines, its land cables [illegible] underground and messages [illegible] by sound [illegible] not subject to repetition.

At the Annual [illegible] of the Grand Council of Select and [illegible] Masters, held in Concord, N. H., [illegible] the following officers were elected: [illegible] J. Sanborn, of Concord, Most Ill. [illegible]; George E. True, of [illegible], Right Illustrious Grand Master; [illegible] A. Harris, of Concord, Illustrious [illegible]; James A[illegible], of Candia, Grand [illegible]; Daniel [illegible], Marshal, of Nashua [illegible] Master of Exercises.

Gov. Hill, at the [illegible] of the House in Newfoundland on [illegible], expressed regret that the province [illegible] joined the Dominion, and reminded [illegible] opposing the union, that Her Majesty's Government not only approves of the [illegible] as advantageous to the Colony [illegible] to Canada, but is anxious for its com[illegible]. He advised the House to study the [illegible] of the community, and to seize [illegible] rather than grasp at some [illegible] perfection.

E. O'Neil Larkin, [illegible] Rhode Island Lantern, arrived in Washington Monday, bringing a petition numerously signed by citizens of that State, asking Congress to pass such legislation as may be [illegible] to secure to citizens of the United States resident in Rhode Island, all the rights, privileges and immunities guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the United States. The design of this petition is to extend the franchise to naturalized citizens residing in that State, who are now precluded from its exercise, if not possessing the required property qualification, under the State constitution.

The growth of Republicanism is well shown by a comparison of the Governors of States now, with those of 1860. Ten years ago the list showed 15 Republican Governors, 10 Democrats and Know-Nothings. Now the Governors of twenty-eight States are Republicans, seven are Democrats and two rank as Conservatives.

At a meeting of the Stockholders of the White Mountain Railroad, held in Concord, Wednesday, the following Directors were elected: John E. Lyon, J. P. Pitman, Peter Butler, E. J. M. Hale and Cyrus Eastman; for Clerk, Charles Lane.

THE YACHT RACE—THE SAPPHO DECLARED WINNER.

The Thursday evening edition of the London Times has the following details of the third contest between the Sappho and Cambria: Both yachts were becalmed for a long time. The Cambria was the winner for the first 20 miles, which was a dead beat to windward; she weathering the Sappho under Dobbhures [illegible]. Between there and St. Catherines, she tacked to windward of the Sappho 14 times successively, but in working along the island in short boards to the mark steamer, completing the first side of the triangle, the Sappho, from her greater fore-reaching, weathered the Cambria, doubling the mark 40 seconds ahead. Here the interest of this race ended, the mark steamer having to take the Cambria in tow as he drifted with the tide. A good breeze prevailed for the first 20 miles. The struggle for the weather position occasioned some excitement, but a dense fog prevailed the greater part of the time.

A later telegram from London says that the arbitrators to whom the owners of the yachts Sappho and Cambria determined to refer their differences, have decided that the Sappho was in the right, and have awarded to her the champion cup.

A CYNIC'S VIEW OF THE CASE. Nero Fulland has been acquitted—Of what? Of murder? No! What then? Of insanity. Bless you! But look you now! The jury, which brought in a verdict of Not Guilty, plain and simple, did it. Sober city, acquit Daniel McFarland of the charge—call it one of [illegible] being crazy! A mad world, my masters!

But who is to acquit the jury? Your charge [illegible] [illegible] sure. And on [illegible] [illegible] you [illegible] head. Ah! but Public Opinion—a trifle [illegible] [illegible] Public Opinion? A mad world, my masters!

Now, let us consult to that verdict. Daniel McFarland, not guilty; Albert D. Richardson [illegible]. Gentlemen, brethren, [illegible] [illegible] Why was he not [illegible]? And [illegible] Mr. Greeley, and [illegible] Beecher, and wondrous Lucy [illegible], what is the plea for them? Mark, not even the plea of insanity. A mad, mad world, my masters!

Verily mental [illegible] the [illegible] is just. Yea, insanity of crime and crime of insanity. Yea, all crime, both insanity and murder, [illegible] there be no longer [illegible] [illegible] for Bedlam. A mad, mad world, my masters! [N. Y. Standard.

The Lewiston Journal says Mr. Daniel [illegible] of Brunswick, has come into possession of a deed given by George III. of England, to his great grandfather, Governor of Massachusetts, conveying to him and his heirs, a portion of land lying along the Kennebec extending from the ocean to Canada, and from Portland along to the Canada line. He claims Bath, Brunswick, Gardiner, Augusta, Waterville, and other towns, as legally his, as well as Portland and towns north of it to the northern boundary of the State. He is waiting as patiently as possible for the time to come when he shall be in full possession of his landed estate. He is disposed to be generous to those who have held possession of his property so long a time.

A BANGOR MAN MURDERED IN PERU. We learn that the American in the employ of Mr. Charles Parker, at Callao, who was murdered and robbed of $1500 on the Chancay Railroad proves to be Capt. The money had been given him to pay off the men in Mr. Parker's employ.

Objection being made to the House bill by Messrs. Stewart and Carpenter, as crude and inadequate in many respects, the Senate bill was considered before the Senate as a pending amendment.

After some further discussion by different members, without anything definite being done, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The bill was passed to allow honorably discharged soldiers and sailors to enter under the homestead act quarter-sections of lands in alternate reserved sections of public lands along the lines of Railroads and other public works to which public lands have been granted.

Mr. Dawes asked unanimous consent to the proposition that the House meet at 11 o'cl'k, but several members objected.

The House then proceeded to the consideration of the bill to revive the navigation and commercial interests.

Mr. Butler of Mass. paid a high compliment to the select committee on the subject, its interest and assiduity, and agreed with the bill reported; his only objection to it was that it did not go far enough; it helped the shipbuilder, but not ship-owners. How should American shipping be protected? All other interests had received full protection from Congress;—all other interests had advocates on the floor of the House, but commerce, the greatest of all interests—"for it lay at the bottom of them"—had no protection. His proposition was to put differential duties on goods imported in American bottoms—a difference of 20 per cent. on the tariff rates, if imported in American wooden ships, and 25 per cent. if in American iron ships. That would apply at once to Great Britain, France, Spain and Portugal, because with these governments reciprocal duties on goods stood on law and not on treaty; and where treaties on the subject did exist they could be terminated by notice in 12 months. The effect would be that the whole carrying trade would be at once done in American ships, and every ship-yard and rolling mill in the country would be set in motion. As to the objection that other nations would retaliate, he could only say that he wished to God they would. The country was suffering from over trading. If there was a wall of fire between this and other nations it would be better for the prosperity of the country, which now imported more than it exported.

Mr. Lynch suggested that if the policy was adopted, American vessels might bring in imports, but would have to go back in ballast, and foreign vessels would take out our exports and have to come back to this country in ballast, thereby doubling the freights and increasing prices.

Mr. Butler replied to that objection, and said even if there were force in it, it would be for the benefit of the shipping, which would have to be doubled. As a rule, Great Britain did the carrying trade of the world. This proposition of his; this assertion of American ideas; this exhibition of American statesmanship; this promulgation of American power, would take from Great Britain what that nation had taken from the United States by her rebel privateers. So that there was poetic as well as statesmanlike justice in it.

Mr. Calkins of New York, addressed the House in advocacy of the bill, referring at length to the doings of the Committee, and told of statements made before it to show that the true way to build up American navigation interests was not by buying foreign built ships, but by encouraging the building of ships at home.

The morning hour expired while Mr. Calkins was speaking and the bill went over.

Mr. Cox of New York, sent to the clerk's desk and had read, a telegram to himself from A. Oakey Hall, announcing that New York State had gone Democratic by over 50,000 majority, which was received with loud clapping of hands on the Democratic side.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Naval appropriation bill, the question being on an amendment by Mr. Stevens to the first paragraph adding 33 per cent to the pay of officers.

Mr. Stevens withdrew his amendment, relating to the pay of officers, and Mr. Washburne offered a substitute from the Committee, making the annual pay of Naval officers as follows, which, after discussion was agreed to, 96 to 90:

Admiral—$12,000.

Vice-Admirals—At sea, $9,000, on shore duty, $7,200; leave of absence or waiting orders, $6,000.

Rear-Admirals—At sea, $6,000; on shore duty, $4,800; leave of absence or waiting orders, $3,000; retired, $2,400.

Commodores—At sea, $5000; on shore duty, $4,000; on leave of absence or waiting orders, $3,000; retired, $2,250.

Captains—At sea, $4,200; on shore duty, $3,360; leave of absence or waiting orders, $2,520; retired, $2,000.

Commanders—At sea, $3,500; on shore duty, $2,800; on leave of absence or waiting orders, $2,100; retired, $1,800.

Lieut. Commanders—At sea, $3,125; on shore duty, $2,500; leave of absence or waiting orders, $2,000; retired, $1,700.

Lieutenants—At sea, $2,500; on shore duty, $2,000; leave of absence or waiting orders, $1,600; retired, $1,300.

Masters—At sea, $2,000; on shore duty, $1,600; leave of absence or waiting orders, $1,200; retired, $1,000.

Ensigns—At sea, $1,600; on shore duty, $1,280; leave of absence or waiting orders, $960; retired, $800.

Staff officers are to receive pay according to their relative rank as specified in the general order of the Navy Department of March 13, 1863.

Mr. Washburne explained that this annual salary was to be in lieu of all the pay and allowance now made. It diminished the pay of Admiral $1,336, of Vice-Admiral at sea, $333 and on shore, $2133, &c.

At the evening session the consideration of the bill was resumed and after amendments, was passed. Adjourned.

—Yesterday was a good day for the race.

—Warm days and cold nights.

—White frost was visible on the sidewalks yesterday morning.

—Columns of smoke in all directions notify us of extensive fires in the distant woods.

—Young Bangor is delighted over a willow whistle, and their streets resound with the sound thereof.

—The [illegible] was removed from the front of Strickland's Block on the Bridge, yesterday, and the reconstructed building presents a fine appearance.

—Camden apparently dislikes to allow the steamer [illegible] up river. The City of Richmond was aground there nearly two hours on Tuesday, and on Wednesday the Cambridge was detained in the same manner.

—We hear that one of our citizens, encouraged by the growing popularity of [illegible], has commenced to cultivate [illegible] [illegible].

—The use of machines for cancelling internal revenue stamps is not imperative. It may be done with pen and ink, but if any machine is used it must be one of those prescribed by the Commissioner.

—There will be a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association at the vestry of the Congregational Church, French St., this evening, at a quarter before eight. All are invited.

DEDICATION OF MASONIC HALL. The new and elegant Masonic Hall lately erected in this city, will be dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Tuesday, June 28th. It is expected that all the Commanderies of Knights Templar in the State will be present and appear in the procession, as there is to be a State review on the day following. A general invitation will be extended to all Masons.

HORSE TROT. The first trot of the season came off on the Bangor Trotting Park on Wednesday afternoon. The attendance, though not large, was still greater than was anticipated. The track was in very bad condition, being nearly as uneven as a newly-ploughed field, and of course no time could be made. The following is a SUMMARY.

Bangor Trotting Park, Wednesday, May 18th—[illegible]

GOOD ON THE HOOP. One of the Penobscot County officials had business in Enfield a few days since, and went up on the night train. He arose early in the morning, and feeling a little uneasy, started along ahead.—He walked down to Passadumkeag, a distance of five miles, only occupying an hour and a quarter in his morning walk and still was in advance of the train. Just as he was about to start for Oldtown, the cars came along, he got on board, and returned to the city, not a whit tired by his exercise. We don't see why a man that can travel as easy as that should keep a horse and gig.

MAINE STATE PRISON. The Governor and Council inspected the Maine State Prison a few days since, while on a visit to the various State Institutions. We understand that Governor Chamberlain was pleased with Warden Rice's management of the Prison, and that matters there are progressing to his entire satisfaction. Mr. Rice has been unceasing in his efforts to make the prison what it should be, and has succeeded far beyond the anticipations of his most sanguine friends. We believe we are correct in stating that for prudent and humane management, no prison in the United States is in advance of ours.

STILL ANOTHER! Wednesday forenoon the police seized at the Maine Central Depot in this city a large quantity of liquors. Six flour barrels, in each of which was packed a half barrel of "R. G.," were directed "M. L. Ross, Winn;" one barrel arranged in the same manner was directed "L. E. Averill, Station Agent, Lincoln Centre," and another, "R. B. D. & Co., Bangor." A 10-gallon keg, enclosed in a nail keg was labelled "B. F. Co., Bangor," and a 5-gallon keg stowed in the same manner was directed "M. Jordan, Lincoln Centre."

Three half-barrels of liquor, enclosed in flour barrels were also seized at the steamer Cambridge on her arrival yesterday afternoon.

STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE. The Board of Trustees of the State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, met at the College Farm in Orono, Wednesday morning. Every member of the Board was present, and in the forenoon an important discussion was had upon the question whether the "community" or "separate room" system should be adopted, in the buildings about to be erected. It was finally resolved to adopt the latter plan. Proposals have been received, one of which will probably be accepted, for the completion of the College laboratory. The subject of the erection of new buildings was taken up and thoroughly discussed. It was decided to proceed at once to erect a building to include a window, cutting his hand severely, in the operation, and jumped out, none to soon for his safety, for in an instant the interior was in a blaze. An alarm was given the fire department, and by their efforts and the assistance of the citizens, the fire was saved, though the interior was burned out and Mr. Pearson's stock totally destroyed by fire and water.

We learn that the stock was insured for $2000 in the Franklin of Philadelphia, and $1000 in the Hide and Leather of Boston, at the Agency of Fuller Bro., and for $1500 in the Lorillard of New York, at the Agency of D. M. Howard; which will amply cover the loss. The building was owned by Mr. J. S. Ingraham and was insured for $1000, in the Home of New York, at the Agency of Freeze & Wiggin. The insurance will probably just about cover the loss on the building. The adjoining Bell Store, occupied by W. G. Dillingham was somewhat damaged by smoke and water. This was insured in the Independent of Boston, at Fuller Bros.' Agency. How the gas [illegible] generated, which caused the explosion is a mystery. Some think the [illegible] from which vapor arose, sufficient to ignite upon the lighting of the match, while others attribute it to the escape of illuminating gas from the fixtures. Three burners were found detached from the fixtures after the fire, and no one seems to know how they came off.

DESPERATE ASSAULT. At Rockland dispatch states that on Tuesday a desperate assault was made upon Deputy Warden Burton at the Maine State Prison, by a convict named Thompson. Thompson is under a sentence of five years for larceny, and is a desperate fellow. He works in the blacksmith shop, and a few days ago he gave to one of the cooks a skeleton key and a note for the Bowdoinham burglar Simms. The note revealed the details of a plot for escape. For this offence, he was shut up in his cell and on Tuesday the Deputy Warden went to his cell and ordered him to pass out his basket.—Thompson reached out as far as he could, and as he did so, threw a quantity of black pepper which he had managed to conceal in his hand into the officer's eyes. He then struck the Deputy Warden several blows upon the head with a piece of iron attached to a file and used like a slung shot. Mr. Burton clinched him, threw him back into the cell, and shut the door but Thompson again assaulted him, striking him in the face with the iron leg of the cell bed stead. Upon this the Deputy Warden drew his revolver and fired three shots at Thompson, two of which took effect in his face and head, inflicting serious, but not dangerous wounds.—Thompson still threatens the life of the Deputy, who is considered fully justified in his action in defending himself against this murderous attack. It will be remembered that Thompson assaulted Major Whitney of this city, in a savage manner, when he was convicted here.

Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

THE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILROAD,

[illegible] running from RICHMOND, Va., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Va., 227 miles, is being rapidly extended to the Ohio River, 200 miles further, making in all 427 miles.

In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens to market the Wonderful Coal Deposits of the Kanawha Region in West Virginia, and thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the Iron Ores of Virginia and Ohio, and the Western, South Western and Eastern markets.

When completed it will connect the superior harbor facilities of the Chesapeake Bay with the navigation of the Ohio River, and thus with the entire system of Railroad and Water transportation of the great West and South-West.

It will make a short, easy, cheap and favorable route from the West to the sea, and will command a large share of the enormous freight seeking transportation to the coast.

It will thus become one of most important, and profitable East and West Trunk Lines of Railroad in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

The completed portion of the Road is doing a profitable and increasing Business, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage, (the entire Loan—$15,000,000.)

The Loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a First Mortgage upon the entire Line, property and equipments, worth when completed at least $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative, and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of cannon, where it splits."

And we left him watching us as we rode away.

Over the brown bare hills, guiltless of shrub or grass, rolling away to the north in resistless waves. Crisp and brittle the turf under our horses' hoofs, the little puffs of dust rising at every step. Into their holes tumble the nimble squirrels, throwing quick glances over their shoulders. Now, a startled rabbit leaps into sight, and, bowls away, unhurt by the sharp "ping" of the bullet. Warm pour down the rays of the sun, burning and parching the earth, and checking the haste of our horses.

Lo! a deer is seen in the hollow, raising his head in the air, and sniffing at the intruders. Just one stroke of the spurs, and away we skurry in quick pursuit. A young one scarcely showing horns, but he bounds proudly on. Closer and closer we come, until the panting animal turns. Crack goes the Colonel's rifle, and, with a bound, the tired creature falls, with a bullet in his shoulder. Then the knife, and his life has fled!

Only one did we raise that day, and, toward nightfall, were only too glad to retrace our steps to the house, and sup on venison steak.

"Not much luck, to-day," said Compasses. "One deer is little among so many."

"But the skill of your wife makes us forget the scarcity."

"Well, gentlemen, that is my wife's the only comfort I ever had. Clepsy is a master hand at fixin's. There's some as has doin's and hasn't the know-how-in's, as many a rich man can't set a good table. But, if your woman has the know-how-in's a very little chin's is enough. Which words is found in the tenth epistle to the Californias, or, howsomever, orter be."

"What's that, Silas?" interrupted the wife, catching the last words. "You quotin' Scriptur? I'm eshmost astonished, but, likewise, pleased."

"I didn't go for to let you hear it; but no harm is done."

"Won't you say it again, old man?"

"It's no use to sell your cabbages twice," says I, and I never repeats."

"Like Shakespeare," inserted Fosdo.

"I dunno Him. Is he in San Francisco?"

"Hardly," was the reply, followed by an explanation.

"Wall," continued Compasses, "as I ain't no scholard, you must pardon me, for not takin' it."

"A man must have larnin' to make them things," said Aunt Clepsy, as she took up a dropped stitch in her prospective stocking.

"Nobody can't git an edjication, and there's some as don't profit by it. A boy might read and spell like a steam-engine without knowin' how to milk; and I've often thought as how edjication was like tunnelin' for a blind lead, ye don't know how much's goin' to help ye. And if every boy has a trade, he's got somethin' what no drought can kill, and no flood wash away, but is his'n internally."

"Yer right there, Clepsy," followed Compasses. "If I had a thousand and one boys, I'd give the old one no 'ddication, and give some trade to the others; then they would not rise up 'gin me at the last day. With his health and a good trade, a feller can fight his way long, partickly in a country like this."

We sat in conversation some hours, and on breaking up the circle, announced to our hosts our intended departure the next morning.

"We're sorry to have ye go," said Aunt Clepsy. "You don't git many visitors now. It's seldom where all the people is."

"But we may come to see you again, some day," I answered.

"There's nothin' sure but death and the taxes; but we'll be glad to see you, if you come."

A long sweet sleep, after a fatiguing day, such as is enjoyed on the hills in the invigorating air, is a boon, which we thoroughly appreciated that night, and, at early morning, were ready to start; and, having partaken of a hearty breakfast, bade adieu to the old couple, and proceeded homeward, wondering much about the waves of circumstance that had thrown together two such singular waifs, and borne them to that distant spot.

It was in the summer of '63 that my law practice took me again into that district, and, as I sat in the hotel of the county seat, I glanced carelessly at an old newspaper that lay on the table. My eye fell on the following item:

"Suicide. Silas Grant, formerly of Texas, and proprietor of the Mud Springs Hotel, committed suicide yesterday, at eight A. M., by shooting himself through the head. He died instantly."

The paper was a month old. I could but feel sad for Compasses and for his poor wife, and after the term of Court was finished, rode over to the place. The old house stood as of old; the garden bloomed still and the brook babbled as cheerfully as when I first beheld it. Leaving my horse at the fence, I knocked at the door and Aunt Clepsy met me—but oh! how changed. Sorrow had ploughed deep furrows in her once smooth brow, and beneath her pure white cap I could see many a line. She did not know me at first, but, when I recalled to her our former visit, she greeted me warmly, though her hand was full of trembling.

"You know he's gone, then," gone and left me behind, which never did I leave him for a single day. In the sun, and in the storm, when the wheels run well, and when we was mired, we was always together, and never once did we have a hash word. We never soured on each other, once."

The poor woman's sobs choked her utterance.

"I've searched the Scriptur', and tried to git comforted, but it don't come," she continued. "Follar me, and I'll show you where we laid him."

Out in the garden, among the fragrant flowers, was Compasses' grave—a simple mound. A row of violets bordered the sweeping earth, and the brook still sang its song.

"Not that I blame him much; he was tired—tired of fightin'. Some men's lives is a continual fight, and they has to be strong not to git underneath. But I loved him."

When the heart-broken woman had somewhat recovered, I led the way to the house, and, as we sat at dinner, she told me all how he had left her, as usual. How she had heard the shot, and found him dead. A short and sorry story.

"Shall you continue to live here?" I asked, as I shook her hand, forced to hurry away.

"Oh, yes; I shall wait here till I'm sent for by the Lord."

And there she waited, hoping and trusting, living upon her past love, and her coming joy, till the death angel summoned her to heaven—to Compasses, who watched for her there.

CURE OF KIDNEY AND BLADDER AFFECTION OF A PATIENT SEVENTY-EIGHT YEARS OF AGE.

Thanks to Mr Helmbold.

GIRARD, Pa., March 1, 1869.

Mr. H. T. Helmbold, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:—Your Extract Buchu has done my father more good than all the doctors and medicines he has taken for the last ten years. He was troubled with Kidney and Bladder affection, and had a stone as large as a small sized hen's egg in his bladder, which was successfully crushed and removed by the use of your Extract Buchu. He is now seventy-eight years of age, and is able to attend to his business every day, which he could not do before using your Extract Buchu. I have been afflicted with Kidney and Bladder complaint for the last two years, and have used your Extract Buchu with great benefit, and consider it the best medicine in use for the Kidneys and Bladder. I have taken about one bottle per month. At the present time I feel as well as I ever did in my life, and attribute my present good health entirely to the use of your Extract Buchu. I have taken no other medicine. I have taken [illegible] Buchu, which I consider a humbug. I refer to the following gentlemen:

A CASE OF INFLAMMATION OF KIDNEY AND GRAVEL.

From Morgan, Frost & Co.

Wednesday, Nov. [illegible], 1869.

Dear Sir:—A year two years ago I was troubled with inflammation on the kidneys and Gravel. I took several remedies without any benefit, and was finally induced to try your Extract Buchu. After using [illegible] bottles I was entirely cured, and am now able to attend to my business. I can recommend it to all suffering with Kidney Complaint, as the best remedy I ever used. Yours truly,

EDWIN M. FRAZER.

PATENT SOLICITING.

I CAN offer to the Public better facilities for procuring LETTERS PATENT than can be obtained by those who reside in New England. Inventors making their applications through me can have their drawings and specifications, and be sure that their case is fairly, and properly represented, and can at all times ascertain the situation of their applications as they progress step to step in the Patent office. Parties who have interests under inventions to be patented, or intelligent agents are almost daily applying to me for advice as to how they can procure the most valuable Patents, and those about to make applications if addressed to solicitors.
